This programme intends to teach skills specific to the Greater China Market context. Covering East-West learnings, the programme provides insights into the dynamics and psychology of wealthy Chinese families and their approach to wealth and succession planning. Participants will also be given an overview of common family office structures, challenges faced by families who are multi-located and how they operate. This programme will be particularly useful for advisors handling the Chinese markets.

Designed specially for professionals serving the Ultra High Net Worth (UHNW) segment within the Greater China Market, the programme will be delivered in Chinese and comprises six different modules covering East-West learnings. Participants will be given an overview of common family office structures, challenges faced by families who are multi-located and how they operate.

This programme is specifically designed for individuals with more than three years of relevant experience who have demonstrated applied knowledge in the various functions within the Family Office segment.
